ASX Code: AHF

23 August 2016

Dear AHF Securityholder

SECURITYHOLDER COMMUNICATION AND ENGAGEMENT

AHF management has been progressively implementing changes to our communications and engagement with AHF Securityholders and the wider market generally.

The communication must always comply with the Listing Rules of ASX and any information of a price sensitive nature must continue to be first released via the ASX Announcements platform. This will, of necessity, also apply to any responses we make to comments and questions.

We would like to advise you about the different channels we have established to provide both formal and informal updates and information to keep you up to date with AHF's progress and to receive informal interaction and feedback.

1. ASX Announcements Platform

ASX remains the primary platform for all formal and performance based announcements as required by ASX Listing Rules. To view our announcements, when you visit the ASX website, click on announcements and type in company code: AHF. We have provided a link below for your use.

2. Facebook

Australian Dairy Farms Group Page is now live. We will utilise Facebook to provide information and more frequent updates of an informal nature.

Camperdown Dairy also have an active Facebook page.

Please like our pages so they will appear on your Facebook news feed.

3. Australian Dairy Farms Website

This website will focus on general corporate matters and governance of the Australian Dairy Farms including copies of all ASX released announcements. The website is currently in the process of a planned upgrade which will be rolled out in the coming months.

4. Camperdown Dairy Company Website

This website will focus on product awareness and sales.

We thank you for your support and hope to see increased securityholder engagements, suggestions and interactions with these positive changes.
